Balmoral Hall

Residential and Day School for Girls

Situated in a park like setting on the banks of the Assiniboine River, Balmoral Hall School for Girls sets a high standard of academic progress and achievement. Besides offering a thorough grounding in the basics, the programme is enhanced by physical education, fabric arts, and a study skills course. But the Balmoral Hall School philosophy goes beyond mere academics. The school's principles emphasize the development of the whole child. As Balmoral Hall believes in total education, it includes "Life Skills" in the general programme. But you do not have to take the school's word for it. Come and see the programme in action. Let your daughter spend a day at Balmoral Hall and meet the Headmaster and the Staff.

For prospectus or information, write or telephone the Headmaster:

The Board of Governors

I am delighted, as Chairman of the Board of Governors, to be afforded an opportunity to contribute to the yearbook. I am confident I express the sentiments of the Board members, all of whom have a keen interest in the education and the welfare of the wonderful students at Balmoral Hall. It is our belief that through our association with the school we too are learning and contributing to school life.

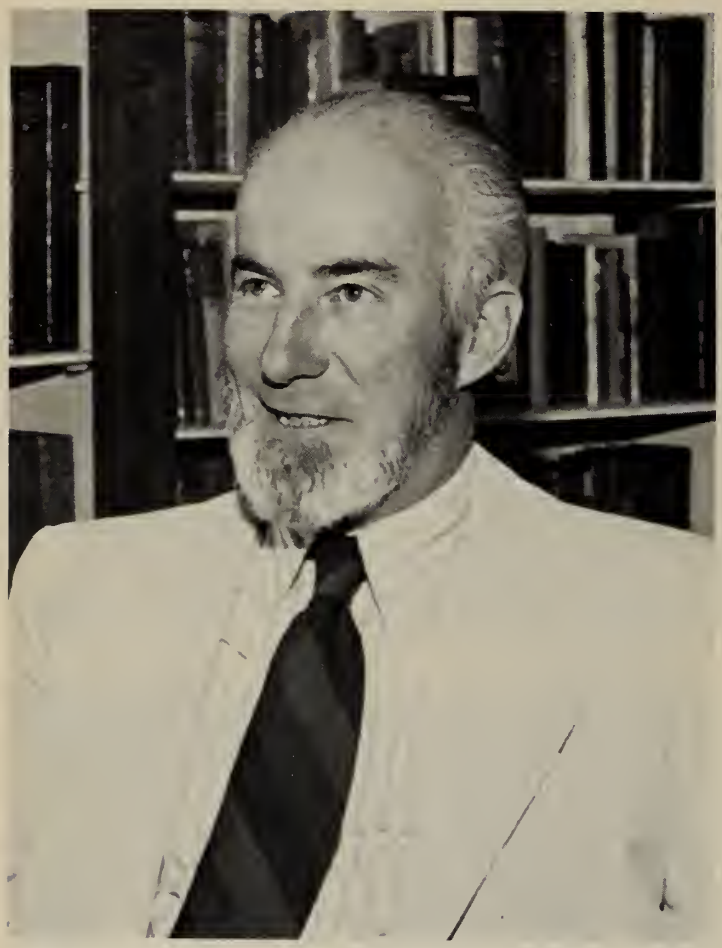
With high enrollment and with the support of our dedicated teaching staff under the direction of our outstanding Head Master, Balmoral Hall is able to develop an outstanding curriculum at every grade level. Our students are justifiably envied by other students, both within and outside the Province. It is our realistic hope that everyone asociated with the school can be proud of its academic prominence in the community.

The Board of Governors is concentrating its efforts at improvements in the physical facilities and for the total scenario of Balmoral Hall, so that the students, who are experiencing one of the most important segments in their life, will be able to achieve an education that excells, and, at the same time as being enjoyable, is adequate for their future.

Roland E. Rivalin

Roland E. Rivalin, Chairman of the Board; Mrs. J.A. Bovey, Mrs. T.A. Burrows, Mr. G.F.A. de Jardin, Mr. John Dutton, Mr. C.H.C. Edwards, Mrs. R.G. Graham, Mrs. R.D. Guy, Mrs. A.S. Leach, Jr. Mr. J.E. Matthews, Mr. G.A. McNaught, Mr. R. Murray, Mr. N.F.B. Nesbitt, Mr. D.D. Ross, Mr. J.M. Ross, Rev. B.B. Roberts, Mr. J.D. Shanski, Mr. D.O. Wood, Governors.

Headmaster's Message



It is mid-October - a windy day in Winnipeg, and hardly a leaf left on the trees on our beautiful riverside campus. Our enthusiastic, efficient and persuasive editor has been to see me today to tell me that it is time for me to write my message for the 1979 yearbook, which, she claims, will be the best ever. The yearbook that is, NOT THE MESSAGE.

It is early days, but in my judgement, not too early to get the feeling that this is going to be a good year. The vibes are right.

There is no doubt in my mind that we are indeed off to a good start in every way. I have confidence in the Balmoral Hall family, and I know that I can count on everyone to play her part.

Doubtless that the pages of this book will tell a story in words and in pictures. From them you will be able to get but a glimpse of the life of a FINE school. You will be able to read between the lines and see something in the pictures to get a more overall impression.

As we move into the 1980's we shall see OUR school continue to grow.

To those of you who graduate in June 1979, let me wish you every success in the years ahead. Take the memories of your stay at Balmoral Hall with you into a happy and prosperous future.

Sincerely,
N. Thomas Russell
Headmaster

Editorial

When years pass and you brush the cobwebs from your bookshelf, I hope you will find OPTIMA ANNI '79 and have another glance at this pictorial record of the school year.

When it was suggested that this book should be dedicated to someone, I immediately thought, "Mom ... ", unfortunately, this thought was not quite suitable, although, in a way, who else, "... made it all happen." However, there has been a group of people who have made this year, one to remember. Some of their presence has been felt since 1966; others have not joined us until this year. Each one has made a permanent impression on every student's heart. They have taught us the meaning of such words as respect, honesty, and endurance.

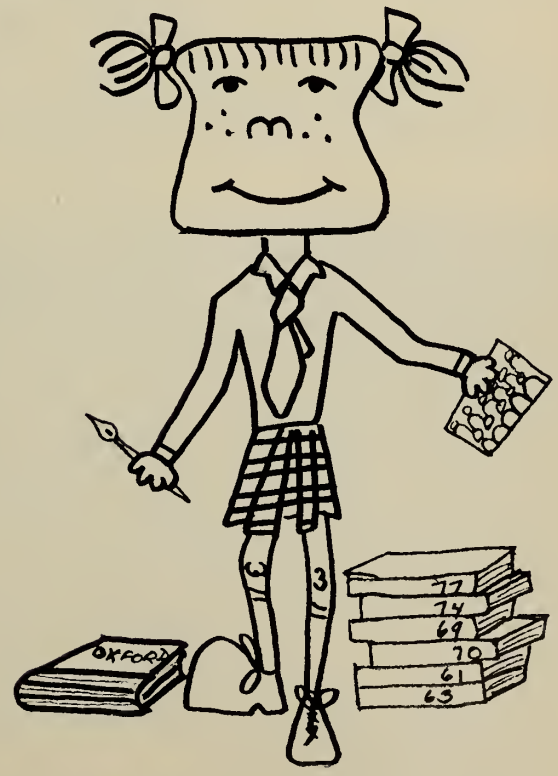
I would like to dedicate this yearbook to the group of people that I have admired since I first came to B.H. - the Grade twelves. I would like to thank you, Class of '79, for creating a super year, so that we could reproduce it in OPTIMA ANNI '79.

Edith Pease,
Editor

Our Christmas deadline will soon come crashing down on the busy yearbook staff. The basement of Junior school is filled with the sounds of people typing, thinking out loud, and my voice over the entire din. Our telephone booth, sorry, our yearbook room, is scattered with layout mats, pictures and distraught bodies. So, at this time I would like to thank my staff, Mrs. Barker, Mrs. Sures and my student photographers for putting up with nagging, screaming and occasional temper tantrums. I would especially like to thank the contributors who turned in art, literature and photos; and those who withstood the tortures of Joanna's sales pitch for pizza raffles and monster cookies.

With all this help, I am pleased to present to you, OPTIMA ANNI '79.

This book will remind us of such events as our Hallowe'en fun, B.I.D. (NOT Bloomer Inspection Day), Graduation, Closing Exercises and the cleaning of our lockers. All are annual events!



P.S. Presenting Annie, our representation of the B.H. student.

Head Girl and School Captain Report

Head Girl: Heather Provis
School Captain: Christy Coughlin

Balmoral Hall is composed of many people, each with different roles and responsibilities, but each with one common purpose - "Seeking Better Things." The family, though small in number, is great in spirit. Each student is presented with the opportunity to aspire to her own interests whether they be in academics, extra-curricular activities, or a combination of the two.

First term has already concluded, and the teachers and students are either rushing home, or to that far-away hide-out to enjoy their lengthy vacation. It has been a busy half year for the entire family, as a number of successful events have unfolded. The senior students once again participated in Shinerama; the junior girls enjoyed a gala Hallowe'en celebration, hosted by their senior counterparts; an "unveiling party" for "Optima Anni '78" transpired, and B.H. hosted the Provincial "B" Volleyball Tournament.

We hope that a number of planned events will materialize during Winnipeg's bleak, cold winter months. These will include the completion of the refurbishing of the senior common room, Spirit Week, Rollerskating night, a Winter Carnival, a dance that Christy is organizing, and many more.

The Class of '79 will depart from B.H. with a solid basis in "Life Skills." The graduates will be able to understand more fully the vast magnitude and importance of education. We say "good-bye" with a mixture of tears, as a token of our grief that we are leaving, and as a sign of our happiness that we have met and enjoyed you all, and that a Great Unknown lies at our feet.

God Bless, We'll miss you!

Barb's Report

The first night in residence is an entirely new experiences for most of us. Strange faces and surroundings make us feel lost with unknown challenges awaiting us. As the year progresses, we find that faces develop into personalities and people. Within time these people become our friends and confidants and not the strange faces they were at the beginning.

It's an old cliché, but life in residence is what you make it. Looking back over the year, I'm sure we can all remember the good times we had and the close moments in the midst of the crisis that we shared.

Meeting new people and discovering new friends from all over Canada and the world can be a wonderful experience. I will always remember my two years here as a time of learning how to live and communicate with others, no matter how unlike we were.

I want to thank everyone in residence for being what they were to me in my time here. What I have learned from you will always be special.

Wishing you all, lots of happiness and sunshine
in whatever you do,

Barb.

The Tommy Awards

For the past two years on this occasion I have given out special awards ... IN SEARCH OF A NAME I CAME UP WITH " THE TOMMY AWARDS", so this evening I have the pleasure of announcing to you a mixture of the serious and not-so-Serious ... BALMORAL HALL'S OWN ANNUAL AWARDS FOR THE RESIDENT STUDENTS, ... THE TOMMY AWARDS FOR 1978.

I can hear some of you saying ... why are they called the Tommy Awards? Well, I suppose the choice of the title is rather obscure, so I'll tell you what T.O.M.M.Y. stands for ...

TEN OUTSTANDING MIRTH & MERIT YULETIDE AWARDS.

My FIRST award, then, is to: MISS FRIZZ, 1978 ... INDIRA GUHA

Miss Happy-go-lucky; Miss Pleasant; Miss cheerful: MISS SMILE 1978 ... CAROL PREMACHUK

MISS ENTHUSIASM 1978 ... (the one and only, thank goodness) ..... MISS EDITH PEASE

I am sure you have guessed who ... MISS SUPER SUCCESSFUL, 1978 is ... ANNE O'SULLIVAN.

MISS FLIRT, 1978, goes to the sociable young lady of 616, Sixth Street; Ontario's gift to Manitoba ... MISS JUDI GREEN

Yes, you guess it ... MISS HANKY-PANKY for 1978 is Miss High Jinks herself ... the one and only MISS SARAH HANKY-PANKY (sorry) ... MISS SARAH HANKS.

MISS NICE for 1978 is ... MISS BARBARA LEE

I give you ... MISS ROLLER BALL, 1978 MISS CECILY SHELDON

The staff award this year goes to MISS PERLA JAVATE - ASSISTANT HEAD OF RESIDENCE

MR. INVISIBLE MAN - MR. TED HORYCHUK (of course, he isn't here).

Our Second Annual Balmoral Barbecue

Since last year, we have found that it really is not autumn until the Fall Annual Mother's Auxiliary Barbecue. Mrs. U. Horbay, President of the Mother's Auxiliary and the committee, did a wonderful job. The whole of the Balmoral family cannot wait until the 3rd Annual in 1979.

Rise and Shine Everybody!!

B.I.D. or Balmoral Hall Initiation Day

ODE TO THE SLAVES ....

You poor pathetic, powerless slaves.
Today we'll tire you to your graves.
But think of us, the ones with experience
And never give US any interference.
There is no doubt that our years in this school,
Have given us absolute right to rule.
So your cries for mercy will go unheard,
As we make you do things most absurd.
You'll be bothered each day into paying your dues,
With pledges, songs or whatever we choose.
A requirement, of course, is serving our whims,
Ordering you about fills our cups to the brims.
Then at 3:10 you'll be in Kourt Kangaroo;
No one will escape - no, not even you!
So when this day is finally done
And through your paces you have run,
You'll finally be able to shout and scream,
"I'm really a part of this nutty scene!"

OH! PERFECT PREFECT ...

How we await with bleeding hearts and bated breath your saintly arrival each blessed morn. Your glorious smile and soothing voice prompt us to obey your every command with unreserved acceleration. Thinking about our halls without your brilliance and your angelic haloes is like thinking about a Hunting - McLean kilt without a B.H.er inside.

Do I hear $4.00? Give me 5, going ...

In Residence

B.H. Gals are Guests at Montreal's E.C.S. ...

Lynn finds happiness on the plane ride home.

Tartans n' Tunics mingle.

E.C.S. girls could also be found in Res.

... and Hostesses to their "Twins".

For the first time, Balmoral Hall participated in an exchange program with Miss Edgar's and Miss Cramp's School in Westmount, Montreal.

While in Montreal from November 6-12, twenty-three grade nine B.H.ers, accompanied by Mrs. Strauss and Heather Provis, enjoyed a week of sightseeing. Activities included a city bus tour, a day in Quebec City and walking tours of Old Montreal, McGill University and Olympic Village. Great friends were made, as each B.H.er was billeted to an E.C.S. "twin."

B.H. girls anxiously anticipated the arrival of their guests, and from March 6-12, it was finally our turn to be hostesses. As soon as the plane landed a reception was held at Aiken's House, where the official welcome was issued.

Both E.C.S. and B.H. girls participated in sightseeing activities throughout the week. A city bus tour and visits to Lower Fort Garry, St. Boniface, the Legislative Building and the Museum of Man and Nature followed. Our visitors were involved in a trip to Elm Creek's Cargill Grain elevator and a swim at the Pan Am pool. A buffet lunch, composed of Mr. McKechnie's culinary delights, was enjoyed by all those who were invited.

The exchange program proved to be a great success. Not only was it an educational experience, but new friends from a different part of Canada were made. Hopefully B.H. will participate in this program for many years to come, as all who were involved felt it a very worthwhile and beneficial event.

Special thanks go to our chaperones, both in Montreal and Winnipeg, as well as to Mr. Russell and Mrs. Honey.

Eclipse of the Solar Kind

A total eclipse of the sun is a once in a life time experience. It is rare and wonderful as we found out on February 26, 1978. The next total eclipse in Manitoba will be in the year 2218.

What is an eclipse? When the moon, in its orbit around the earth, aligns itself in such a way that it stops sunlight from reaching the earth, a total eclipse occurs. There are three phases to the eclipse. The first phase is the beginning of the moon passing over the sun. The second phase occurs when there will be only a black disk in the sky, surrounded by the sun's corona which will appear as a bright ring. The third phase is the reverse of the first one.

However, the most spectacular event was not what happened to the sun but the exciting environmental changes which had taken place around us. About five minutes before the total phase, the landscape was dim and covered with faint lines of black and white streaming across the ground at approximately 10 metres per second. Also, the temperature dropped almost 9 degrees C. The wind picked up and cloud formation also occurred.

Streets lamps were on and we saw stars in the middle of the day.

At lease four grade 11 physics students have become eclipse freaks, and we hope to see you in 1980, in India for the next total eclipse.

WINNIPEG: - start of first phase - 9:36:15
- start of totality - 10:46:55
- end of totality - 10:49:11
- end of eclipse - 12:03:19

David's Room

The air was heavy with memories. I could sense fear hiding in the closet and peaking out from beneath the young boy's bed. It was neatly tucked, awaiting David to wrestle playfully with his father, disrupting the smooth, clean lines of the baby blue bedspread. Its wait was futile. His room - full of love, full of laughter; full of life. Memories. Just memories and memories don't count. His pajamas still lie on the end of his bed. They were tossed there carelessly by a boy who was eager to start a new day of adventure. No one knew how that day would end. The small blue clock continued to count time. It was an ominous reminder that time must go on. David's picture was still sitting on the dresser beside the clock where it had always been. That impish grin ... never to be seen again ... lost in time. Time ... Ha ... was his time over? It had just barely begun! It wasn't fair. His cars sat in the middle of the floor. I bent down and slowly and thoughtfully placed each car in his toy box. It was the last time I'd do so. I picked his toy dump truck off the floor last. I held it in my hand surveying the lines of the vehicle blankly. I had left it in his stocking last Christmas. It still had the price tag on $1.98 ... Damn! I hurled the toy across the room. It hit the picture off the dresser. It tumbled to the floor. The frame was broken under the collection of newly shattered glass; David still grinned.

Susan Mulvaney Gr. 10

To my special friend:

Thank you for being a friend
and let's hope this friendship never ends.

I picked you up when you were down,
and you were there when I had a frown.

Once in a while we'll have a tiff,
But our friendship is the most precious gift,

I want you to know I'll always be there to help you up and show you I care.

THE YEAR OF THE JOGGER

After a festive Christmas holiday the average Canadian usually experiences the "February Fats"; unless, of course, he's a jogger. A sudden realization of an excessively flabby body is what inspires many people to take up this type of exercise.

It's the middle of winter, but the beginner jogger eagerly awakes to make his first attempt of a morning jog. Taking all precautions, he bundles up like an Eskimo and sets out. Approximately one minute later, after an unsuccessful quarter of a block, the jogger can be seen returning in an exhausted manner.

The next morning his body will ache all over. He will long to enjoy that extra half hour of sleep instead of torturing himself in the bitter cold, but determination overrules, and once again he sets out.

Two weeks pass by, and although he has experienced such things as frozen body parts, painfully stiff muscles, and perhaps even a touch of bronchitis, he will have increased the length of his jog to at least one block.

Eventually spring comes. The daily jog will still be quite a chore, but it can easily be accepted as just an extremely good workout. Quite often one will return from a jog dripping wet. In this case, it is possible for one to have some sort of glandular problems or the jogger just didn't quite make the six foot long puddle he was forced to jump as he encountered it on his jogging route. Usually though, the dampness is just normal perspiration.

Finally, summer rolls around. This is the time the jogger really begins to enjoy jogging. The warm sun beats down while the jogger greedily breathes the fresh air and feels his now healthy strong body exerting itself. He begins to feel good about himself and the feeling fills him with great satisfaction. After a good steady pace is developed one can begin to notice scenery and become aware of how beautiful our world is. He sees, what to some is, an unseen world, such as the melodic little song-bird, the great sweeping arms of the willow tree, and the boy scout helping the old lady across the street. The former statement has been a bit exaggerated, but only to express the effects that jogging can have on the jogger.

Once again, the autumn chills arrive. The exuberance of summer begins to wear off, and around October memories of the previous cold winter jogging provokes hesitancy in the mind of the jogger. Most have found, however, jogging to be addictive, and just as life goes on in stages, so must the jogger.

If I were snow, I'd not fall to the ground,
I'd stay in the sky and I'd look around
The beautiful trees all covered in white
The diamonds that glitter in the night
The brisk, brisk air that fills the sky
May I please ask "Why?"

ART,
the silent language.

From childhood masterpieces
To works of art-
Where do we go from here?

Away from childhood visions we grow,
To depict life as it really is:
Complicated and beautiful.

OLD AND NEW

Youth is likened to Spring.
Fresh, sweet and innocent.
As green as the first budding leaf.
How glorious are all things new!
So wholly perfect,
Wild yet gentle.
Herein lies the fascination with
The emerging Rose.
What pleasure it gives!
But time passes and interests grow dim.
The first rose is the same as another
And the leaf has whithered.
One tends to forget
Dried up roses and Autumn leaves,
So crisp and frail
Have their beauty too.

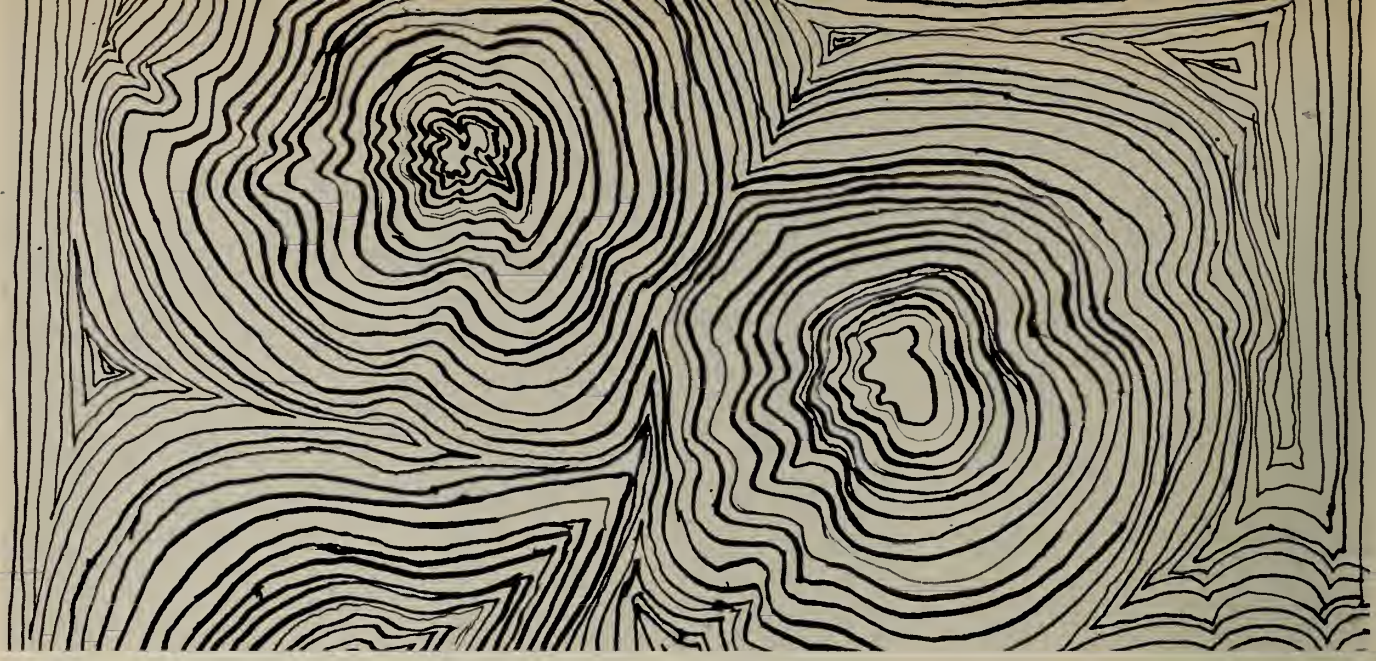
FOR YOU

You made me laugh.
You made me cry.
You're a part of me,
That will never die.

Your love is strong.
Your love is true.
When you read this,
Remember that, I love you too.

I'll always need
Your loving care.
Promise me that
You'll always be there.

I will never want
This feeling to end.
I just want to say
Thank-you for being a friend.



LIVING IN RESIDENCE

Living in residence is just like having forty sisters, between the ages of thirteen and seventeen under the same roof.

There comes a time in every teenage girl's life when she just can't find any piece of her clothing that looks right. The advantage of having forty sisters solves that problem very easily. I recall one time when a fellow res. partner went out in the most gorgeous outfit, even though the only thing that belonged to her was her underwear. The makeup was even done by one of the older "sisters."

I'm sure that the Dean of Residence at times, would like to lock all of us up in our rooms and throw the key away. Our own mothers talk of getting grey hair having only two girls in the family. Between the breaking up of cookie and water fights and our crying and screaming, our Dean must shed her grey hair and have to transplant it every month in order to keep looking as if we aren't much to handle.

There is always the misplacement of some object and everyone seems to get involved.

"Did I lend you my record?"

"Yes."

"Can I have it back please?"

"Um, I think I gave it to Laurie."

"How come?"

"She lent me her curling iron."

"Then you get Laurie to get it."

"I don't have it," replies Laurie.

"Well, where is it?"

"Barb's got it."

"I think I gave it back to you, or was it to ... " says Barb.

This type of situation can go on forever but by this time you are so frustrated, you give up. When about to lie down on your bed and burst into tears, you find your lost article and forget all what has happened until the next time.

Of course, residence life is not always good. When you have a really important story to tell your friend sitting across the table in study, you cannot open your mouth for fear of getting grounded for the next weekend. Learning to control your tensions is one lesson learned in residence life.

The hyper feeling is controlled until after bed check. Then, when lights go out the mischievous feeling comes over you once again. You just have to phone for the pizza. Sneaking out for the pizza man to come is one of these scary moments, especially after telling stories. about the "Ghost of Sir Aikins."

Depression always occurs when there are girls around. Everyone in residence tends to get homesick at least once a month. When this happens, there are plenty of people for comfort.

All in all, I like living in a residence. There are the good times as well as the bad and even they are O.K. when there are other people to share it with.

Varsity Team

We had a super season this year, and almost won the provincials. Our only injury there was our cameraman, Susan Mulvaney. Our team will never forget canoeing on the La Salle, Deloraine, "Paradise By The Dashboard Lights", or K.S. Thanks to Sheena Sharpe, our team manager, and a special thanks to Mrs. Harper, who was an absolutely super coach!

FRONT ROW: V. Guy, Captain; L. Jacks, Ass't Captain.
MISSING: S. Roblin, A. Wood, S. Mulvaney, B. Leach, A. Downs.

Junior Varsity

The J. V. volleyball team enjoyed a great season this year, and had lots of fun! St. Mary's gave us a real challenge, and unfortunately we lost to them in the finals. A special thanks goes to our coach, Jane Denis, who fought with us all the way! It was good work team and next year is our turn to win!!

SECOND ROW: L. Coughlin, H. McDonald, D. McInnes, J. Ross, M. Jessiman, P. Coughlin.
FRONT ROW: A. Batchelor, K. Fyles.

Junior Team

We won all of our games, but at the tournament, at Westgate, we came in third. We aren't professionals, but we had a great time, and THAT'S WHAT COUNTS. A special thanks to Miss Milthorpe, our super coach, responsible for it all!

Alison Batchelor, Captain; Kim Fyles, Co-Captain.

Basketball has its ups and downs

BACK ROW: S. Muir, M. Glassco, G. McDonald, A. Haworth, J. Peifer, J. Cotton.
FRONT ROW: W. Thompson, N. Murray, Ass't Captain; V. Guy, Captain; M. Haworth.
MISSING: A Wood, A. Downs.

Varsity Team

We came third in our league this year and had a great time eating, drinking, and tobogganning with our coach, Paul. (We played some basketball too) We also want to thank Doug, the St. Mary's coach, who inspired us with his you know-what!

Vicki Guy

Junior Basketball

This year was a good one for the basketball team, thanks to Jane Dennis, our coach. During the season, we won all the games except one. We made it to the semi-finals and almost to the finals. Thanks again Jane!

Vicki and her Sportful Sports Council

This year I tried to make an intramural program which would create enthusiasm through a variety of areas. We played such games as volleyball, murderball, floor hockey and siamese soccer. I would like to extend a special thanks to the sports council and to Mrs. Harper, who did a super job helping with the organization of the house meetings and games. To conclude, I'd like to say that horses sweat, men perspire, and ladies glow and no offense B.H.'ers, but I think that we all had a great time acting like horses!

Hi Fellow Ballaterians!!!

Ballater

RAH, RAH, SIS BOOM BAH
BALLATER, YAH, YAH, YAH!!!!

This has been a great year for the well oiled "Green Machine." We have really made it work. "Ar-bee-Dar ..."

I would like to thank, congratulate Barbie Leach, Patti Coughlin, and Anna-Lisa Cohen, who is our Junior School Househead. All have been doing super jobs throughout the year. A special thanks to Edith Pease, our official person-waker-upper.

Although your present househead will be moving on to other green pastures, Kermitt and another leader will see you through a great 1979-1980, carrying on the traditions of a harmonious, strong, team. Our green froggy friend will be an inspiration to all.

May the joy of day threes
be with you always,

Braemar

TO ALL MY BRAEMAR PALS:

I've been thinking back on all we did together as a house, trying to remember which was the best time we had together, but you know what? ... I can't ... the whole year was one of the greatest times of my life. Thanks to all the help from Kathleen McManus, our Junior School Househead, Carol Premachuk our 7-8 Househead and Sue Graham our 9-10 Househead. Braemar still remained one of the toughest teams to beat and the house with the greatest spirit - keep it up Braemar! Thanks a lot everyone for all your enthusiasm this year. I'm gonna miss you all. Take care and always remember - What's the greatest house? BRAEMAR!!!

Lots of Love
Lori Jacks

Craig Gowan

FELLOW CRAIG GOWANITES

I'm going to miss you all. Although I probably won't remember all the wins we had, I'll certainly remember all of the enthusiasm and fun that everyone in the house shared during each game.

I don't think I could have asked for a better group of kids to house.

A special thanks to Barb and Jane, our 9-10 and 7-8 house heads. The best of luck to all of you in the future.

Luv Sue and Big Bird

Glen Gairn

YEAH GLEN GAIRN!!!

Here we are at the end of another year. Our enthusiasm and determination, in my opinion, made this the best year yet. We may not have won the trophy but we sure gave them a run for their money. We took our wins victoriously and our defeats graciously. Through it all we had fun. Thanks everyone for a great and enjoyable year. And a very special thanks to Alison Downs, 9-10 lieutenant and Megan Jessiman, the 7-8 lieutenant.

Best of Luck next year and in years to come ...
You won't be forgotten!!

A bunch of Love

Well, things have been very busy with this year's library program. With the help of my committee and Carol P., library supervision has gone smoothly. Our lovable librarian, Mrs. Law, and Miss McLaughlen have been very helpful in assisting me with the organization of a library program. Although there is no new library this year, next year's library prefect will have the treat of moving all those books to their new home.

Lotsa luck in the future and remember, keep reading those books, but don't keep them.

Love, Cyndy.

Choir '78–'79

This year the choir was a great success. Our singing events included the Christmas Concert, the Spring Concert, and, of course Closing Exercises.

Thanks should be given to Mrs. Honey for all her support in accompanying us.

We would especially like to thank Mrs. Ilavsky our conductor.

A Special Presentation of Awards

Mr. Rivalin with the top achievers in senior math competition, Nicola Murray and Laurie Pan.

Mr. Casson with Joanna Cotton and Lynn Premachuk. Both of the girls received prizes for public speaking.

The Bloomers Rumours Staff

When you first heard of Bloomer Rumours, you probably wondered what it was. By now most of us know it to be the B.H. newspaper that has been circulating since Sept. We felt that reviving the paper would be a good idea for the school in terms of both spirit and activities. The few staff members (including A.B.R.D.) have worked hard on it and certainly deserve recognition for their efforts. In spite of several problems we managed to work everything out. We would like to thank you for the support and let's hope that we will see "Bloomers next year."

Junior Mathematics Competition

We entered the Math Competition this year with dubiou_ thoughts, but with Mrs. Sabbadini's confidence and excellent coaching, (and a bit of luck), we managed to fare better than expected. We are the top Girl's School in Canada, the top school in our zone, 2nd in the province, and 20th in Canada. Let's hope that this years achievement has set a precedent for next year. Congratulations Math Team! Thanks Mrs. Sabbadini.

Second term Vice Head, Deirdre Prosen

Cari with first term Vice Head, Kelli Anne Dickson

This year it was decided that the vice-heads of Junior School would change at the second term. We have enjoyed our terms and still feel honored that we were elected. Some responsibilities that we had were helping Mrs. Larrette, leading prayers, assisting Mrs. McCallen with assemblies and running a Junior School Book sale. We had a lot of great co-operation this year, and we'll never forget the fun we had together.

Cheers

to the ...

Class of '79!

1979 Graduates : Kim, Casey, Cathy,

CATHY BARCLAY: (bottom left) Half of the Dynamic Duo, Cathy boogied in from Darlingford two years ago. Relatively inconspicuous in the halls, Cathy unleashed her unrelenting energy after 3:10. Her apartment was host to various kilted bodies throughout the year. Cathy and her Toyota go together like Winnipeg and the Trib. Always full to over-brimming, the little red bomb jambooted around town and out to Darlingford for various social events. Cathy will be part of the labour force next year but then intends to enter either nursing or physical therapy. Best of Luck, Cathy!

ANNA CHOLAKIS: (top right) Anna has been contributing to the noise pollution at B.H. for six years. Her position as G.A.P. (Greek American Princess) has remained unchallenged. Anna's texts littered the bench and floor all year long while her wardrobe occupied her locker: "Have you seen my brown clogs?" With Andrea in tow, Anna enjoyed regular gourmet feasts but managed to keep her figure nonetheless. Art (the course, that is) is Anna's obvious forté and she hopes to enter into a program at Banff School of Fine Arts, and later to attend U of M. Alpha Beta, Anna!

KIM ABBOTT: (top left) Kim will long be associated with the phrase: "Do I look alright?" and with her naturally curly hair: "Are you sure you didn't get a perm?" As a working girl, Kim's ensembles adorned various nooks around the halls: "What do you have in a black size 8A?" An old-fashioned romantic, Kim's future plans definitely include marriage - either to the peach on Waikiki Beach or to her fav Jets star. In August, Kim will be gracing the halls of the St. Boniface School of Nursing. May your blood pressure never rise, Kim!

CASEY ALLAN: (missing) ... Fondly known as K.C., our glamorous friend and her band spread sunshine! One of our part-time students, Casey meandered in at all times explaining that she had been at the library. She passed away monotonous lectures by sketching women's faces. And what an artist! We still can't figure out what happened during art last year! K.C. shone during English but never did get her phys. ed. uniform correct - though Mrs. Harper long gave up trying to persuade her. Accepted at Trent, her studies will be in the arts. Arbedar, K.C.!

Anna, Christie, Kelly, Melanie,

CHRISTIE COUGHLIN: (far left) Christy, a five year veteran of B.H. will be remembered as the incorrigible romantic. Her on-again off-again affairs - with brothers yet - kept us entertained (?) many a Monday morning and Tuesday ... Try as we may, we will never be able to forget Christy's wild parties. As School Captain, Christy was one of the few who could extend her visit to Squire's and use her position as an excuse for being late for history. Chrissy hopes to study aviation at the University of North Dakota. Fly high, Chris!

KELLY CRAIG: (middle left) Kelly is the uncontested winner of the "Mum's the Word" award. She has stuck it out at B.H. for eight years and has been an honours student. Kelly's claim to fame has been her artwork - especially the sketch of Aikin's House that graces the Mother's Auxiliary's notecards. Though not known for uproarious cheering, Kelly has been a valuable member of Ballater. Next year her brown Camaro will be zipping around U of M campus as she enters the Faculty of Interior Design. Kelly was awarded an Entrance Scholarship. Take Care, Kelly!

MELANIE DYER: (missing) Another quiet voice, Melanie's voice never rose above the homogenous roar of the grade twelves in action - except that memorable theology class in English. Melanie frequently received phone messages from Finland, and much to our disappointment, the mysterious caller was her father and not a foreign interest. This summer, Melanie will be training as a teen missionary in Florida and then it's off to England. She will also enter the Western Pentecostal Bible College for two years to train as a Christian Councillor. Keep the Faith, Melanie!

ELIZABETH GALLAGHER: (middle right) Liz was the only student we knew of who skipped classes in order to puppysit her dog! She was often heard explaining: "But he'll eat the coasters and things!" A regular of Squire's and of the Southwood Liz has attended B.H. for two years and has been characterized by her shrieks of laughter and her "yah, right!'s". Liz intends to enter the working world prior to making a decision concerning her career. Best of Luck, Liz and remember that good things do come in small packages!

BARBARA FRASER: (far right) Heralding from Edmonton, Barb was a newcomer for the first day only. Since then her singsong voice and remarkably agile eyebrows have become known throughout B.H. This year's Head of Res., Barb was a Squire's regular and a commonroom groupie. She was never heard criticizing a fellow student ... well at least without provocation! Barb could often be seen trotting across Westminster after an early morn visit to friends. She plans to work and then attend the University of San Diego. Keep Smilin', Barb!

Barb, Liz, Vicki, Margaret, Dora,

DORA HUI: (top middle) Dora joined us for grade twelve and cleverly managed to stay out of res. by acquiring her own apartment. One of the more demure members of the class, her warm smile and friendly chatter were appreciated. An honours student, Dora will call Manitoba "home" while she attends U of M in the Faculty of Home Economics. Dora was awarded an Entrance Scholarship and will major in Food and Nutrition. Good Luck!!

MARILYN IWASYK: (bottom right) The other half of the "Dynamic Duo", Marilyn's most notorious behavior was not exhibited within the halls but was displayed rather at social functions - such as grad ... nudge, nudge, wink, wink. We will never forget this wild-eyed wacko with her shrieks of laughter and "Oh, Cathy's". Marilyn's greatest problem lay in locating someone who would phone the office so she could stay at Cathy's. Marilyn has been with us for two glorious years and now hopes to attend the U of S to pursue a career in pharmacy. Let the good times roll, Sic!!

LORI JACKS: (top right) ... Lori has spent a decade of her life at B.H. How she did it we will never know but we do know she did it in style! Lori was frequently the sham of us all with her gross tan and revolting long blonde hair. Lori's suicide mission this year was being Head of Braemar and she was often more confused than the rest of her blue crew! Lori's varying degrees of laughter and her friendly disposition will be missed by the entire B.H. family. Lori is planning to enter the field of Physical Abuse ... sorry, Education and will possibly travel prior to attending U of M. Good luck Lori and watch out for COPS!!

VICKI GUY: (top left) Vicki's greatest award must be the respect she has earned from students and teachers over her twelve years at B.H. Vicki's spirit has often been expressed in imaginative and genuine schemes - usually with the assistance of one of her partners-in-crime, Mrs. Harper. Although Vicki did don her kilt for official occasions, she was habitually clothed in her second skin - her track suit and adidas. A valuable participant in sports both actively and in the organizational aspect, Vicki "served" splendidly as Sports Captain. She will be biking through France this summer before attending the University of Grenoble.

MARGARET HAWORTH: (bottom left) Margaret has been a student at B.H. for six years. A known scholar and athlete she has been active in school life. Extremely analytical, Margaret actually revelled in math, physics and chem. "Megret" was also a valuable member of Ballater especially in basketball, track and in the cheering throng. She admirably had her homework finished on time - except her "Grand Meaulnes." Next year she will be treading U of M ground, while aiming for a B.Sc (Hons.) in Zoology. Her long range plans include working with CUSO. We wish you the best!!

Marilyn, Lori, Cyndy, Clare, Dorothy,

CYNDY KILPATRICK: (top left) Cyndy's been tripping through the halls for four years now and always finds a more radical way to do so. Her curvacious volleyball bumps and equally unique gym routines will always be remembered. One of the Fort Lauderdale Twins, Cyn made a splash in the wet T-shirt contest. One of her fav sayings was "Where's your library book - it's overdue a month now?" As Library Prefect she was always in a BIND! After heading way up north to work for the summer, Cyndy will be off to Western University to study nursing. Don't fall over the interns!

CLARE KOO: (bottom right) Clare arrived late in September to add to our throng. She was a member of res. and could often be found conversing with her roommate or heading towards Squire's. Although Clare was very quiet, her pearly-white smile did the talking. A few words often escaped, directed to the chosen few, after the weekend. Clare is the first of us to be engaged and her future plans include not only marriage but also environmental studies which will hopefully lead to a master's degree. Take Care, Clare!

DOROTHY LAU: (bottom middle) The class has always viewed Dorothy as its own. Arriving in grade seven with not a word of English or any athletic ability, we nurtured her during her high school years. We "parents" are proud! A special friend to all, her smiles have brightened many a dull math class and her willingness to help included a six o'clock a.m. tutor session before an exam! We have learned to ignore Dorothy's absurd theories - one of which is not washing your hair the night before a test for fear of sudsing away your knowledge. No, Dorothy will not enter philosophy, but is torn between the Arts and Sciences. Whatever you choose we know you'll succeed!

BARBARA LEE: (bottom left) Barb arrived at B.H. two years ago to fill the halls with giggles and interrogations such as: "Can I borrow your history notes?" Although she was usually silent, and never spoke during class, Barb was known for her occasional babbling spells. A valuable and respected member of both residence and choir Barb also possessed a keen artistic flair. Barb was an inconspicuous Braemarite after she arrived last September - but that ended when she scored a hat trick in floor hockey. Barb has her sights set on a career in Commercial Art. Best of Luck Barb and keep smilin'!

JULIE LOMMERSE: (top right) Hailing from the emerald plains of Killarney for grade twelve, Julie soon became one of "us." Though at first uncomfortable in her kilt, she quickly adapted. However it proved to be more difficult to adjust to the antics of her notorious roommate. Throughout the year, Julie helped to occupy the back left-hand side of the English room - the only consistent thing about her! Julie may have stayed in the city one weekend (the time she gave the Big K team a tour of her room!) but otherwise, after spending Thursday night on the phone finding a ride, it was back to her "interest." With her infectious smile and laugh in tow, Julie will invade U of M next year in the Arts. See ya' at St. Pat's!

Barb, Julie, Heather, Judy, Sue, Katina,

HEATHER PROVIS: (far left) Heather has been an important member of our Balmoral Hall Family since arriving seven years ago. House Head of Ballater and Yearbook Editor last year, Heather was elected to be Head Girl this year and she represented our school skillfully and loyally. Ballater's chief goalie and cheering leader, Heather's voice was barely audible after games. Never a moment to spare, her lunch hours were spent rushing to and from various meetings. Often heard exclaiming: "We have to stay in touch!" One of Heather's ambitions is to stage the Class of 79's silver reunion! With scholarships to Queen's, it's off to Kingston to major in Canadian Studies. Heather's ultimate goal is to enter the field of communications in journalism and broadcasting. Your second "Family" will miss ya'!

JUDY PRZIBSLAWSKY: (middle left) Judy was most understanding of our inability to pronounce her surname and thus has become fondly known as Prz. or Judy Prz-Biz. This miniscule replica of our grade nine music teacher has been with us for four years. Muscular and athletic, Judy possessed expertise both in figure skating and in gymnastics. She managed to operate on a limited budget and kept her little white bug's belly full until the day of the unfortunate accident. May our get-away car for McHappy Day rest in peace! Best of Luck Judy at U of M as you pursue a career in physiotherapy!

SUSAN ROBLIN:(far right) Although this titian-haired beauty attended B.H. for a total of six years, she left believing that school commenced at 10:00 and ended at 2:00 with a long lunch break in between. With possessions scattered throughout the halls, Sue could often be heard asking: "Can I borrow your black shoes for history?" As the '78-'79 Head of Craig Gowan, She won the Best Cake award for her seven-layer interpretation of Big Bird. Susan's artistic abilities were demonstrated on the magnificent mural in the common room that she designed and painted. Good Luck at U of W and in your fashion model career!

KATINA ROSS: (middle right) Our ski bunny, Katina was one of two part-time students. Although she didn't miss too many classes, she would be off in "her" Benz during spares and lunches. Because of her absences, Katina Marina was never quite sure what was going on - remember her scrounging at the club for a bathing suit for the swim meet? An habitual loser of her glasses and a not too frequent attender of housegames or of phys. ed. classes, Katina finally updated her hairdo, after years of our constant nagging! Katina has been accepted at Trent but is undecided at to what Faculty she wishes to enter. Good Luck!!

Sheena, Pam, Wendy, Andrea.

SHEENA SHARP: (middle right) Sheena has been haunting our halls now for three years and they may never be the same. Although she was rational most of the time, Sheena frequently flew into rages over disputed topics - many were the arresting argument with Mrs. C. or Mme. D. Sheena is mathematically and artistically inclined and both of her talents have been appreciated. The house artist for Glen Gairn, Sheena has gained everlasting fame because of her Pooh logo. Her association with Junior Achievement has been most illustrious and we were proud of her representation. Next year it's off to U of M to commence Environmental Studies which will lead to Architecture. "HUA!"

PAM STEVENS: (middle left) Pam's association with B.H. began five years ago. After being a long-time member of res., Pam finally moved into a comfortable abode. Although she was linked with a certain somebody for three years, Spam is again on the prowl. The other Fort Lauderdale Twin, Pam's stories alone could motivate one to hop the first plane. (What happened to the slide show, Stevens?) Last year's Head of Braemar, Pam served as the Grade twelve Class President this year and was noted for her late entrances to Student Council meetings - clutching onto Junior's fries and a shake. A year of Arts courses at U. of M. are in store for Pam, who is preparing for a career in travel. Good Luck!

WENDY THOMPSON: (bottom) For three years now, Wendy's guffaw and toothy smile have been a part of B.H. Last year's winner of the Jock Award, Wendy perhaps could be mistaken for Joe Namath. This year, as Head of Ballater, Fred led her house to its illustrious victory in winning the house trophy. A resident of the prairie dust town of Regina, Wendy's "home-away-from-home" was residence. She therefore had to escape Chris' culinary delights and often found her nutrition elsewhere. May you hurdle all obstacles in your quest of earning a degree in Physical Education at University of Calgary, Wendy!

ANDREA WOOD: (top) Andrea's four year stay at B.H. has been characterized by a conflict between what she should do and what she will do. Her high academic standing attests to the fact that wild ideas and attitudes are beneficial to one's scholastic record! Andrea gained notoriety because of her insistence on rattling off stinging questions during English orals. Happy was the girl who presented her thesis the day that Andrea had the flu! Andrea is off to University of Toronto next year and eventually hopes to be a lawyer - pity the defense! Bonne Chance, Bébé!

Valedictory Address

Mr. Russell, Honorary Guests, Fellow Graduates, and all members of the Balmoral Hall family:

Before I commence my valedictory address, I would like to cordially invite you all, on behalf of the graduates, to the Class of 79's Silver Reunion on June 6, 2004. Further details will be released in future decades.

The "girls in white" are still shaking their heads in utter disbelief. "This can't be us - we can't be graduating! "Ah - but it is true. The curtains are now closing on a part of our lives in which girls and adults have truly joined to make school a life and learning experience. But this will allow many curtain calls in memory of our past association with Balmoral Hall.

I am sure you will recall that first day of grade one. No doubt you were a little curious about the Great Unknown School; perhaps somewhat timid - with thoughts either of howling teachers and dunce caps, or of sweet ladies, and a paradise of play. School seemed kinder and it even gained a purpose as our grades rose and our growth continued. Teachers became less frightening and yes, even human in our eyes! They have helped to turn at least some of our studies into times of fun, and the remainder less like the "poisonous snakes" of our younger minds. They have attempted to transform both our academics and games from spiteful episodes into rivalries of keen enjoyment and meaningful play.

Speaking of keen enjoyment and meaningful play, will we ever forget:

-chaos and control
-the yum yum bakery (mud pies anyone?)
-black felt markers
-the turkey
-Lori's lengthy dresses
-a fleeting vision of a vanishing Vicki
-suntanning on the riverbank
-discoing in the commonroom (and leaving the biology door open)
-skip-out day, and our self written notes of excuse
-McHappy Day
-dates for grad (or lack of them)
-Anna and Andrea's regular gourmet feasts as well as ...
-the daily 12:25 race from the schoolgrounds, and the coresponding 1:10 scramble to beat Mrs. Sharpe's locked door.

Indeed a good portion of the year was spent time trying to make time for lunch from classes, or trying to make time for classes from lunch. Yes - we have come a long way since grade 8 when the teachers had us written off as a motley crew incapable of ever becoming civilized!

When one session closes another inevitably opens. Those of you left behind see us disappear through the door into the outside world - one that is thrown open so much more widely than when we first came to Balmoral Hall. This door will lead us to a life of our own with all of its joys and its inescapable problems. In leaving, we carry with us much greater wealth than mere money: all the experience that years at this school have allowed us to accumulate, as well as your warm love and kind best wishes.

We, the Balmoral Hall graduates, are trained in "Life Skills." We can understand the definition of education and the meaning of responsibility and participation. We are each leaving with a pair of the finest eyes ever created so that we may envision the greatest human beings, animals, and countries of the world and be introduced to sources of fascinating knowledge. In addition to these, we possess an equally keen pair of inner eyes that allow us to pick out, in detail, all the fun and serious feelings in others and in ourselves. With such eyes we will never be blind, and I commend that their use can be sharpened and made even more valuable by inviting your personal God to go with you.

It is with a mixture of emotions that we depart from our Balmoral Hall Family. With sorrow and tears as well as with elation and smiles, we bid "good-bye" to our Father figure, Mr. Russell, our many maternal figures and our some 300 odd siblings. When we return we know that we will be welcomed fervently back into the fold.

It seems traditional for the valedictorian to utter some words of advice to her younger schoolmates. And because I have gained instant maturity and worldliness since waltzing down this aisle, I too will attempt to dispatch some wisdom:

After graduating the class of '79 will continue its quest of "Seeking Better Things." Those of you who will remain must do so also. Do not stop seeking and please keep striving, until you have built your own Jerusalem in this our "hunter" green and pleasant land.

May God bless and keep you all. With much love, so many thanks and an idle threat that we will be back, the Supergrads, the Class of '79 has loved you and now - must leave you.
